To Whom it May Concern:

Re: John O'Maley

I had the pleasure of working with John O'Maley during the time I owned my own company, Petplay. John was our head of Sales. He did a fantastic job of getting us into food chains across the country. He had the highest ethical conduct and worked with buyers and our team to resolve any major issues that popped up. His integrity is unquestionably the best in an industry that has its own shades of grey, John was always there with an insight as to what the right thing to do was.

I would hire John again. No issues, no questions, no qualms.

Kindest regards,
